

MediSight Data Platform Inc.

Q2 2025 Quarterly Snapshot

MediSight Data Platform Inc. ("MediSight") operates a cloud-based data platform for hospital systems, aggregating clinical, claims and operational data. Contracts are multi-year, with pricing tied to data volume and number of facilities.

Quarter in Brief

Recognized revenue for Q2 2025 totalled 6.8M, with Gross Margin of 77%. Total Headcount ended the quarter at 121. During the period, MediSight continued to deploy its platform across two new hospital networks, which required incremental hiring in implementation and customer success. Contracted ARR at the end of Q2 2025 was 27.9M, supported primarily by expansion within existing health systems rather than new logo additions.

Selected Operating Observations

- No material customer churn was observed during the quarter.
- Management highlighted that several late-stage opportunities remain active with European hospital groups, but no specific probability-weighted pipeline figures were shared.
- Management continues to target Gross Margin in the mid- to high-70s for the near term.

Other Financial Information

Capitalized development costs in Q2 2025 amounted to 0.5M. There were no material write-downs of previously capitalized software. Management is evaluating the addition of a second data center region to support international expansion; however, no firm capital commitments have been made.
